

Private Lessons

The Chestnut Hill School of Music offers quality after-school music lessons in a supportive and nurturing environment. Group and private lessons are available for cello, double bass, drums, flute, guitar, piano, saxophone, songwriting, viola, violin and voice. In addition, workshops are offered during the school year. Parents and children of any age may come to many of these fun-filled family workshops. No experience is necessary, only a love of music and a desire to try something new.

The School of Music is fortunate to have an outstanding and diverse teaching staff trained and experienced in teaching children the excitement of music making. Yearly our program enrolls over 100 students. Whether returning or new to music lessons, we invite you to look through the information and consider joining us. In addition, you are welcome to attend any of our student recitals so that you can experience first hand the performance accomplishments of our students.

Children may begin lessons at the following suggested ages. When exceptional interest and/or ability is evident at a younger age, evaluations will be given to determine if an earlier beginning is appropriate.

Cello	5 years old and up
Drums	7 years old and up
Flute	7 years old and up
Guitar	Discretion of instructor
Piano	4 years old +
Violin	3 years old and up
Voice	Discretion of instructor